

Michel Chiha and the Lebanese Constitution
Chibli Mallat © 2023

Prelims

Preface and acknowledgments, acronyms used

Table of Contents

Short ToC

Long ToC

1. Orientation: Two centuries of constitutional communalism in Lebanon

A terminological detour

Sect, community, confession, rite

Nation-State

Constitution, dustur

Documentary trail and scholarship

A brief sketch of Lebanon's constitutional history

Part one- Communalism and the birth of elections

2. From Simqaniyya (1697) to the Beirut Consultative Council (1834)

Symbolism at Simqaniyya (1697)

The birth of Consultative Councils (Cairo 1829, Damascus 1832, Beirut 1834)

3. The entrenchment of communal councils and the rise of the electoral principle (1840-1920)

The two kāimacams' councils (1842-1860)

The Administrative Council (1861-1920)

Part two- The Lebanese Constitution of 1926

4. The Constitution of 1926- Genesis

The Commission Administrative and the Council of Representatives (1920-1925)

Enter Michel Chiha

5. The Constitution of 1926- Structure and outside influence

LEJ(F)ARC: the Lebanese version of the 'Atlantic constitution'

C The Citizen's basic rights

L Legislative Power, J Judiciary

E Executive Power

A, R, 'final and transitory dispositions'

Amendments, presidential elections, the Congress

A Amendments

Titles IV and V- Miscellanea

R 'Title VI- Final and transitory dispositions':

Article 95, the Mandate

Outside influence: Menassa, French expertise, Duguit

The Menassa letter

French expertise

Chiha and Duguit

6. Building constitutional blocks- Communalism

A lasting communal straitjacket

Communalism in the legislative branch

Senate

Chamber of deputies

Communalism in the judiciary, the cabinet, and the administration

Council of ministers

Administration

Conclusion

7. Central constitutional themes

The nature of the constitutional regime

The emergence of a bicephalic executive

Chiha's budgetary concerns

Electoral templates

Conclusion

Part three- Chiha after the Constitution

8. Constitutional developments

Suspension(s) and restoration(s) of the Constitution during the Mandate

An overbearing Mandate

The dominance of executive power

Legislative power and the Senate

Budget

9. Chiha's *Weltanschauung

The French connection

Longue durée

'Economics'

Human capital and Etat-moins

Wider horizons: Poetry, Palestine etc.

10. Chiha's Nation

'Associated religious minorities' v 'nationalism'

Chiha's nationalism

Looking for constitutional temperaments to communalism

Democratic principles

The Swiss example

Part four- The Constitution after Chiha

11. Lebanese constitutionalism and the political-theological Middle East

The depth of Middle Eastern constitutionalism

Disruptive elections

'Un monstre ingouvernable'

The pluses of communal constitutionalism

Ta'ef

Lebanese and Middle Eastern constitutionalism

12. The Lebanese Constitution in the world

On democracy

On secularism
Minority, community, group : a US comparison
Back to Lebanon

13. Epilogue

Constitutional windows out of communalism
Government-elections-parties: an elusive triangle

14. Bibliography

15. Index